THE LATE MR. BURCH.

The funeral services of the Rev. Francis M. Burch, known as "the prison angel," for his work among prisoners, who died in his home, 719 south Fifty-first street, late Friday night, will be held in Old St. Paul's Church, at Third and Walnut streets, Tuesday morning. After the sermon, which will be preached by the Rev. Herman L. Doring, the body will be taken to Alexandria for burial. In the death of the mission worker, inmates of the prison in this city and vicinity lose one of their best friends. For years he had been accustomed to going among them. He counseled with them and cheered them. He stood at the bedside of many when they passed out of life's prison. Scores of prisoners have been led to conversion by the simple preacher, who went among them almost daily. One of these was James R. Gentry, the slayer of Madge York, who, with twenty others, was confirmed by Bishop Robinson, of Nevada, in the Eastern penitentiary a year ago. For eleven years Mr. Burch was in charge of the Seamen's Home. Here he looked after sailors from many countries in this port. He has friends among sea-faring men in all parts of the world. During the last few years he had been in charge of the Episcopal City Mission. In this capacity his activities had been wide and varied. His health during the last year compelled him to relinquish some of his work. He inaugurated the custom of giving Christian burial to every unidentified seaman whose body was recovered in the morgue. ## A FATAL ACCIDENT.

Edward H. Dent, a brakeman in the Potomac railroad yards, north of this city, was the victim of a fatal accident early last Saturday night. The unfortunate man was on top of the last car of a freight train which was being backed when by a sudden jolt he was thrown upon the track. Both of his legs were crushed above the knees and before he could be rescued ten cars had passed over him. The crew of the train placed the injured man on a light engine and he was brought to this city and taken to the Alexandria Hospital, where he was attended by Dr. W. M. Smith, but owing to his critical condition it was deemed unwise to perform an operation. He died about midnight.

Dent was about twenty-six years old and unmarried. He was a native of Stafford Courthouse. For some time he had been employed in the capacity of a freight brakeman at the yards. He made his home on Commerce street, this city. The parents and sister of the unfortunate man were notified and they reached the hospital about the time shortly before he expired. His remains were shipped to Brooke, Va.

A FATAL DIVE.

J. W. Traubert, who had been living in this city, where he had been employed as a pressman, died at Marshall Hall yesterday afternoon from injuries received by diving in shallow water. The accident occurred at a small foot bridge where the water is about two feet deep. Traubert was taken from the water by bystanders and every effort made to resuscitate him, but he expired an hour later. Traubert is said to have been from Chillicothe, Ohio. He was about 40 years old.

The remains were brought to this city this afternoon on the steamer Charles Macalister. And taken to Demaine & Sons undertaking establishment. Mr. R. S. Barrett, who had recently employed the deceased in endeavoring to communicate with his relatives. He has telegraphed to Chillicothe. The Charles county Md., authorities held an inquest yesterday. A verdict was returned to the effect that death was accidental.

WEDDING.

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. E. Goldsmith, 314 Prince street was the scene of a happy gathering yesterday afternoon when their daughter, Miss Meryl Brager Goldsmith, was married to Mr. Milton S. Kroneheim, of Washington. Rabbi Stern, of Washington, officiated. Only the immediate families were present. The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a suit of raisin broadcloth and a black Gainsborough hat and a corsage bouquet of violets. The only attendants were the twin sisters of the groom, Miss Gertrude Kroneheim and Miss Pauline Kroneheim, of Washington. The groom was attended by his brother, Mr. Philip Kroneheim, as best man. A wedding breakfast followed the ceremony, and later Mr. and Mrs. Kroneheim left for Washington, and from there to New York, Niagara and Atlantic City. On their return they will live at the Willard apartment house on 25th street, Washington.

NEW NORFOLK LINE.

The Potomac and Chesapeake Steamboat Co. of Washington will commence on the 14th inst. running the steamer St. John between Washington, this city and Norfolk on a tri-weekly schedule. This service is for the winter only. With the opening of the spring season the company will have two speedy and handsome propeller steamers in service on a daily schedule. Stops will be made at Old Point and Colonial Beach in both directions. Later a wharf will be built about King Copepod point, nearer the mouth of the river. This will be used as the connecting point between river and bay lines.

MADAME MOUNTFORD'S LECTURE.

Taking for her subject "The Nativity of Jesus," which is the first of three lectures she is to give on the "Life of The Christ." Madame Mountford began her second series of lectures at the Methodist Episcopal Church South last night. She began by a vivid description of the early history of the life of Mary, the mother of Jesus, in which she took up the lineage of Mary and her ancestors, showing that the blood of many nations flowed in her veins, linking her with the royal house of Egypt and Persia, as well as the house of David, King of the Jews. In brief, a reason was given for the wise men coming from "The East" to seek and find the Christ who according to their prophecies was to be born in Bethlehem. Likewise all Jerusalem was stirred by the coming event of his birth. Many side lights were thrown upon the Bible account that made the story of the Christ, as in legend and tradition. New facts were brought out. As Madame Mountford stood in her white robe, and described the announcement of the angels, and later, the flight of the new born Saviour by the shepherds and wise men from the east, lying in the manger wrapped in swaddling clothes of the Shepherd David and of the royal house of David, the audience followed her with intense interest. The climax was reached in the beautiful scene of lighting the seven branched candlestick, which is symbolical of Jesus, the light of the world, and showing how the Christ child would be shown to the pilgrims, shepherds and wise men.

TODAY AND TOMORROW NIGHT.

Tonight and Tuesday night will be on the life of the Christ, and Friday night the illustrated lecture on "The Messenger and the Message."

FOOTBALL.

The Cardinal Athletic Club won its opening game Saturday afternoon when it defeated the Yarmouth Athletic Club, a 135 pound eleven of Washington, by the score of 5 to 0. The Cardinals played a good game all the way through, and they were completely outweighted by their opponents. The touch down was made by Eotwile, the O. A. C. full back, who was pushed through the line. The feature of the game was the all round playing of the O. A. C. The Alexandria Athletic Club football eleven journeyed to the Episcopal High School Saturday and defeated the fast football eleven of that school by the score of 5 to 0. The game was very interesting and the Alexandria boys played at a fast pace, showing that it is an exceedingly strong eleven. The Alexandria boys held the front line in fine style. The touch down was made by McBride, who circled the end.

"Spider" McGinnis was a deep dyed all-around and a wide crowd. He cared nothing for man or law and his greatest ambition was to relieve the U. S. Treasury of a part of its surplus. He started on the east bank of the Potomac and began to dig. But instead of digging straight he went in a circle and his body is now peacefully lying in Potter's field, which only proves that the straight road is the real road and it always leads to the Auth Market, home of Auth's home killed man, Sylvan Blomheim, The Auth Stand and the Auth Market.
